Disc golf is similar to golf in procedure, pace and psychology. Disc golfers use specialized discs (smaller, heavier, and aerodynamically superior to the Frisbees used for playing catch). and "hole out" in a disc golf basket or target designed to stop the disc's forward motion. Disc golfers play the throw from where it lies, and count each throw as a stroke until the disc lands in the basket or within the chains of the basket.

Ultimate is most akin to a combination of Soccer and American Football except you cannot run with the Frisbee.

DIVISIONS - PRIZES
